

ARE YOU OUR NEW SHIP AGENT IN BERGEN?

We are looking for a shipping enthusiast to join our office in Bergen. The available position is for a period of 6 months, during our busy cruise ship season, with a possibility of extending after the season. The business environment is hands-on and involves a daily contact with customers, suppliers, local and national authorities, and other business partners. In addition to gaining knowledge of cruise and the cruise industry, you will have the opportunity to develop a broad shipping knowledge by being part of a shipping company with many different business activities.

MAIN TASKS

The operational areas of responsibility vary and are related to coordination, handling and clearing of ship calls. This includes being on board the ships, at the pier and in the office. Interaction with, and service of, customers, as well as business development, are therefore important aspects of the job. As our cruise ships can be in port longer than normal working hours, and every day of the week; work outside normal business hours and overtime is to be expected to some extent.

DESIRED KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS

- Problem-solving skills, including in hectic times
- Ability to act independently both when dealing with operational and administrative tasks
- Pro-activeness, efficiency and desire to take on responsibility
- Solution-oriented and a service-minded attitude
- Communication with a diverse group of people
- Remain calm in hectic situations
- The right to live and work in Norway
- Excellent communication skills in English, written and spoken, is a prerequisite

WE OFFER

- An exciting and challenging summer in an international environment
- A highly professional work environment with possibilities to meet people from all over the world
- No two days alike with a large variation of tasks and responsibilities
- An opportunity to experience the shipping industry
- Possibilities to travel for work purposes

Expected start date: 1st April 2019 or as per mutual agreement
